WISTERIA GARDEN

Location: Queens Park, Sydney

The Design Brief was to: update the garden and replace tired looking surfaces and pathways, create a planting style that provided a cool outlook with strong green backdrops and flower display and improve the access from the rear of the house to the rear laneway.

This garden is a pretty, much loved family garden. The new entertaining area is located in a sunny corner of the garden while the lawn area is a cooler space when the family wishes to retreat to the shade on hot days. A wide pathway divides the two areas, with planting softening the edges of the path.
